President Wilson Is Investigating Lynching in Illinois Last Night

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Collinsville, Ill., April 5.—Kneeling with his arms crossed, Sherman Robert Prager, who was lynched last night at midnight for alleged disloyal remarks, prayed in German for three minutes before he was strung up, according to statements today by members of the lynching party.

Case Before President
Washington, April 5.—Attorney General Gregory took to the cabinet meeting today a report of the lynching with his arms crossed, saying of Robert Prager at Collinsville, Ill., last night, for discussion with President Wilson. The government is expected to denounce the mob's lawless act, and to express the hope that there will be no repetition elsewhere.

Fear German Reprisals
A brief report on the lynching reached the attorney general today from U. S. Attorney Charles A. Karch. Further details were asked. Officials made plain that they deplored the incident, both because of the effect in this country and also because it is feared reprisals may be made in Germany on Americans.

GOVERNMENT PRESSES TURNING OUT BONDS AT RATE OF 500,000 PER DAY

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 5.—Final preparations were being rushed today for the opening tomorrow of the sale campaign of the Third Liberty Loan. Directors of the drive announced that 40,000 of the bonds already have been turned out by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, and it was estimated that 100,000 will be ready tomorrow. Thereafter the bonds will leave the presses at the rate of 500,000 daily to supply the demands for cash sale and immediate delivery.

MORE LIBERTY
LOAN MEETINGS

Liberty Loan meetings continue throughout this vicinity and reports show an increased interest on the part of the people in the coming big drive. Last night the meetings at Shaw, Lee Center and Eagle Point were very largely attended and were enthusiastic. This evening meetings will be held at Woosung and at the Eichenberg school in Reynolds township, with Attorneys Harry Edwards and Harry Warner speaking at the former place and Attorneys R. H. Scott, Grover Gehant, A. H. Hanneken and M. J. Gannon in Reynolds.

MRS. STANBROUGH
IS CRITICALLY ILL

Mrs. Foster Stanbrough this morning received word from her husband, who was called to Dorchester, Neb., by the serious illness of his mother, that Mrs. Stanbrough Sr. is in a very serious condition and that the attending physicians give out very little hope for her recovery. The afflicted lady has lived here and has many friends who will be pained to learn of her critical condition.

PROCLAMATION

In 1776 (July 4th), this nation in its declaration of independence solemnly decreed: "these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." On each recurring fourth day of July we pause to do honor to the heroes of 1776 and we add our measure of spirit and sentiment and devotion to the foundation which they built. In 1917 (April, 6th), the United States of America by act of Congress and approval of the President changed from a nation at peace to a nation at war. By that memorable act all the fortunes and the citizenship of our country were arrayed on the side of the right and democracy, declaring to all the world that freedom meant freedom now and forever, here and everywhere.

This declaration of a world democracy has been received with a national love and loyalty that have filled our hearts. Our young men and our young women have offered not only their services but themselves. We have generously responded to the calls for war relief, recreation funds, and have more than liberally subscribed for thrift stamps and Liberty bonds. On this first anniversary of the stand for world democracy, April 6th, we begin a new and greater drive for a Liberty Loan—a drive to make every dollar mean one hundred cents of steadfast patriotism.

It is fitting, therefore, that April 6th be set aside as a day of commemoration.

HENRY SCHMIDT,
Mayor.

COAL DEALERS CALLED TO MEET HERE TUESDAY

WILL CONSIDER RECENT ORDER
ISSUED BY STATE FUEL ADMINISTRATION.

The fuel administrators of Lee county have called a meeting of the fuel dealers of the county to be held next Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. at the city council rooms. The purpose of the meeting is to carefully consider the instructions recently sent out by the U. S. and state fuel administrators in regard to the coming year's fuel supply. As these rulings are rather complicated and it is the desire of the administration to have them correctly interpreted every patriotic fuel dealer in the county is expected to be present.

LADIES G. A. R.
BAZAAR TO OPEN

The annual bazar of the Ladies of the G. A. R., which it was found necessary to postpone twice because of the fuel situation in the winter, will open tomorrow evening at Rosbrook hall and the ladies anticipate liberal patronage on the part of the public. In fact they are surely deserving of it for there has not been a patriotic movement of any kind that the members of the Circle have not been actively engaged in and in the recent Red Cross, Liberty Loan, Y. M. C. A. and K. C. drives they were of especial assistance. The Marquette orchestra will furnish music for the dancers on the opening evening.

—King in The Chicago Tribune.

Make It a Short Campaign

THE NATION is calling for teamwork on the Third Liberty Loan. Let Dixon and Lee County do her share quickly and completely.

The money is here, and necessary patriotism is here. There is no real reason why the men and women of this county who will buy the Liberty Bonds should wait until the middle or the last of the campaign period.

If you will go to your Liberty Loan headquarters tomorrow, on the opening day of the campaign, and celebrate Liberty Day in the most fitting manner possible by buying your share of the bonds, you will do no more than you will do before the campaign is over, and you will gain for yourself the pleasant feeling of doing your duty without being urged.

A great number of Lee County men and women are giving valuable time to the Liberty Loan campaign. They are busy men and women, and are making a sacrifice, though a willing one, in order that this county shall not fail to do her duty and shall subscribe her full quota. Do you want these men and women to waste time and energy calling upon you and urging you to do what you ought to do and what you will do?

Let us make the Third Liberty Loan campaign in Lee County short and snappy. Let us make it possible for the representatives of the government here to send a message to the United States Treasury Department very early in the campaign, telling them that Lee County has done her share and more.

UNIT MEMBERS
TOOK THE OATH

The drill of Dixon Unit Volunteer Training corps at the armory last evening was very largely attended and, following the news published in The TELEGRAPH this week that the unit would be mustered into the state reserve militia next Tuesday evening, the enthusiasm of the members was much more evident. Those present last evening were given the oath preparatory to being mustered in next Tuesday.

It Is Expected Everyone

FOR GREAT MEETING

Prominent Speakers to Be Secured for This Affair

A parade for which there shall be no spectators is the desire of the committee in charge of the big Liberty day celebration in Dixon next Tuesday evening. It was announced this morning that every man, woman and child in Dixon and vicinity is wanted in the line of march—not along it. And every participant in the parade is expected to carry an American flag and to have some sort of noise making device; thus will enthusiasm be shown and the drive for the third Liberty Loan will be started right. Details of the parade will be announced later, and in the meantime it is expected that the part each individual is going to take in the demonstration shall be given some thought by the people of this community.

Arrangements for the big mass meeting to be held in the opera house are being formulated and some prominent speakers from out of town are to be the features. County Chairman A. P. Armstrong is now in communication with the publicity bureau in Chicago and has been assured that capable speakers, whose names will be announced later, will be sent here to assist Dixon boosters in showing any pro-Germans there may be in this vicinity that the American people are in this war to crush the Kaiser's power.

APRIL DRAFT TO BE

Big Drafts of Rest of Year
Will Be Drawn Gradually
to Aid Industry

90,000 FOR EACH MONTH

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 5.—Orders for the mobilization of the first large number of men of the second draft will go out to the governors of the states very soon. Fifteen thousand men of the second draft are now mobilizing and the April call about to go out will represent probably more than the month's proportion of the 900,000 who it previously has been announced will be called during the remaining nine months in the year. To call the 900,000 men in equal monthly increments would mobilize them at about 90,000 a month, however, there is no assurance that this will be a fixed figure because the flow of men will be determined by the needs of the army in France.

As General Pershing may call for especially qualified troops, an average of 90,000 a month may be much exceeded or much decreased.

It has been announced that the men will be drawn as gradually and in as small numbers as possible so as not to dislocate industry, and particularly agriculture.

Several Supervisors Are Mentioned for the Position

MCLEARY CANDIDATE

With Tuesday's election out of the way and the personnel of the next board of supervisors definitely determined, the county political pot is now starting to boil concerning the new chairman of the board, to succeed Joseph Bauer of Hamilton. Several of the hold-over members of the board have been mentioned as possible candidates, but as far as is known Joseph M. McCleary of Dixon is thus far the only avowed candidate for the position.

Among those who have been mentioned as embryo candidates are Jas. Buckley of May, Charles Ewald of Reynolds, John P. Drew of Palmyra and John W. Banks of Brooklyn.

The board will meet the latter part of this month for organization, which includes the election of a chairman, and by that time the present political condition may be greatly changed.

FRENCH LINES HOLDING

French Withstand Furious
German Attempts to Break Through

By Associated Press Leased Wire

London, April 5.—The British have been pressed back a short distance on the front east of Amiens to positions east of Villers-Bretonneaux, the war office announces.

The Germans hurled large bodies of troops against the British between the Luce and Somme rivers, making repeated assaults. For the most part, the enemy was thrown back with losses.

French Were Victorious

Paris, April 5.—German forces continued their attacks during the night, says the official statement issued today by the war office.

Despite the superiority of the German effectives which the statement says were spent recklessly, the Teutons were unable to reach their objective, which was the railway from Amiens to Clermont.

The French regiments by their resistance and counter attacks, maintained the line in its entirety, the war office announced.

Take Epirette Wood

The French troops conquered the greater part of Epirette Wood, north of the town of Orvillers-Sorel. All German efforts to dislodge the Frenchmen were in vain.

WAR SUMMARY

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Striving at positions south of the Somme nearest Amiens, the Germans have renewed their offensive with heavy forces. In desperate fighting with the British and French, the enemy has been able to make only slight gains at isolated points, being repulsed with great loss everywhere else.

How well the valiant Franco-British forces withstood the enemy onslaught is shown by the fact that on a front of nine miles north of Montdidier the Germans used more than 100,000 men. Field Marshal Haig's center and right held its ground against the heavy attacks, while the left fell back somewhat around Hamel, south of the Somme, and about 12 miles directly east of Amiens.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR PUBLIC EATING PLACES ANNOUNCED BY FOOD ADMINISTRATOR HOOVER

Through local Food Administrator A. H. Bosworth the public eating places of Dixon have been notified of the following new regulations concerning the serving of meat and wheat in their establishments:

Rule No. 1—No wheat products, including Victory bread, rolls and crackers to be served unless especially ordered. Victory bread, rolls and crackers must not be kept on tables and not over two ounces served to any one person at a meal.

Rule No. 2—No more than six pounds of wheat flour, whether patent, graham or whole wheat, shall be purchased or used for every 90 meals served. Standard Victory bread and standard rolls are ruled to contain approximately one-half pound wheat flour for six pounds gross weight. Records of flour purchased (including the weight of wheat flour in rolls and bread purchased) and records of the number of meals served must be accurately kept and reported to the United States food administrator as requested. Investigations will be made to enforce this rule.

Rule No. 3—Mondays and Wednesdays and all evening meals, from 5 p. m. until midnight, must be wheatless. Victory bread or rolls, but not wheat crackers, may be served, but only when especially ordered and in proportions of not more than 2 ounces per one person.

Rule No. 4—Meatless days, porkless days and meatless meals are suspended until May 1.

Note—6 pounds of flour for every 90 meals served will not permit the serving of two ounces per patron at each meal. You must therefore cut down on the use of bread and flour, observing rule No. 1. There is a very serious wheat shortage and you must do your part. If you are willing to volunteer not to serve any wheat flour products in bread or other foods until the next harvest send us your name and you will be put on our honor list. Many have already volunteered in response to Mr. Hoover's request. Get your competitors to join you in this patriotic pledge.

DROWNING CHILDREN TO SAVE THEIR FOOD

TERRIBLE CONDITIONS IN ONE CHINESE PROVINCE ARE REPORTED.

Peking, Feb. 8 (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—"But, Daddy, it's cold," said the little girl, when her father brought her to a hole in the ice and told her to jump in.

"Never mind, you must get in," replied the father. So he put her in and returned home, with one less mouth to feed.

This, says the Peking Daily News, is typical of what is happening in An-ping and adjoining districts, fifty miles south of Pao-tung in Chihli province. Some days ago a baby was found deposited on the ground in Mili village. The mother was traced to another part of the village. She explained that their home was in ruins, that there was no food, her husband had gone away some four years ago at a previous time, and she had already thrown this baby in to the well twice, but it had been rescued by neighbors.

On December 14th the P'u-t'ao-ho river in this district caused a great flood owing to the blockage of ice. The villagers suddenly found water pouring into the streets and into the houses. The men had all they could do to rescue their women, children and old folk, getting them on roofs of houses.

There, on the roofs, in bitter cold, they lived and slept for three days, until the ice was frozen solid. Now they have got back into the houses, where the ice under their feet is one or two, and even three feet deep. The most of their belongings are buried in this ice. They are eating a watery concoction of dead leaves. When the frost breaks the river is almost certain to overflow again. The ice in the houses will melt. Within and without all will be water. The houses will dissolve and collapse. Destruction now awaits the people unless they can be removed beforehand to some place of safety.

In this district of An-ping there are over 100,000 people in distress owing to the floods. One hundred and eighty villages are affected, but it is only a small number that have suffered from this last calamity of ice. About 40 villages are in extreme distress.

ling with emotion places her sweetest garlands upon the brow of earnest women workers who faithfully engage in the vast fields of useful endeavor. Even in Turkey there are over 30,000 women joined in a league who are fast changing the entire social conditions of that far away country. Only a question of time when the women there will be in power and the men in the harems.

Franklin Grove has its full proportion of capable, energetic women who when they start out to "do things," always accomplish good results. There are no harems here as yet for the men but the men generally surrender and "come across" in helping the women in any worthy cause.

In November, 1912, Mrs. Jennie L. Reigle called a number of her friends together and there was organized what has since been known as the Priscilla club. At first the object of the club was to do knitting and fancy work but since the country has become involved in war the society has increased its efforts in other fields. The club now meets every Friday afternoon and knits and sews for the Red Cross. Only recently it has presented the public school with a beautiful flag and donated $10 to the Red Cross. The latest achievement in a public way was the raising of funds for the care and maintenance of two French orphans. This object was accomplished by co-operating with the management of the Keystone theatre in giving an entertainment March 28. Through the efforts of the club many tickets were sold in advance which resulted in a large attendance at the matinee and both of the evening shows. The program for the entertainment was very pleasing, the first part being a melodrama of reels featuring Jack Pickford in "The Dummy." This was followed by a two reel Matt Sennett comedy which was enjoyed greatly except by a very few who evidently had never witnessed many bathing beach scenes which are so common in all parts of the country. But they survived the terrible shock and are now convalescent.

After paying all operating expenses of the theatre the club realized a net sum of $65 which exceeded somewhat their expectations and it was decided to adopt two orphans instead of one as planned at first. It is truly a noble cause and if the Priscilla club will continue the care of these homeless and can provide for their education and training for a useful life it will be a great work and blessing to all.

The Priscilla club has 25 active members. Mrs. Jennie L. Reigle has been president of the club since its organization. Mrs. James Conlon is vice president and Mrs. Frank Senger, secretary and treasurer.

The Result

SPEAKING to the German press, after a week of the big drive, General von Ludendorff said: "A great battle has been fought and won. Nobody can foresee what will result from it."

These words, from the man generally admitted to be the real governing force in Germany, admirably picture the precise situation from the German standpoint. A Frenchman could hardly have put it better. Germany has plunged into an epochal campaign. She has fought what was meant to be the decisive, concluding battle of the war. On the face of things she has had reason in the first phase of the drive to consider herself victorious—but there stands that fatal confession, "Nobody can foresee what will result from it."

If Germany had won a real victory, there would be little question of the result. A program of world-domination, including vast land-grabbing, huge indemnities and widespread measures for the permanent crushing of her rivals would have been imposed without delay. She would have proceeded to deal with her foes far more severely than Napoleon's conquerors dealt with that adventurer. But this has been no Waterloo.

The battle has just begun. The first phase favored Germany. The second phase has been a stand-off. The third phase is beginning. If the contest is really won by either side, it will be won by the allies. And in that case, we can all foresee what the result will be, and will take pleasure in drawing a diagram of it for Ludendorff. England, and France, and now America, pulling together, are beginning to lift the veil of doubt. With present good news continuing for a few days, even Hindenburg, the kaiser and all Germany will be able to read the result without a diagram.

If you are not for this government, and for it strong, you are against it; and when you are against the government you are against the people, against your own friends and neighbors, and the best you can expect is very rough treatment if they find it out.

Hint the Hun must be getting frightfully hungry if he is still waiting for that breakfast in Paris which he promised himself for the morning of fast.

Hint Not to Be Misunderstood.
Alice was busy explaining something to her mother and was being constantly annoyed by a little girl friend who was trying to talk at the same time. Her patience finally giving way, she turned to the little girl and remarked: "Say, can't you tell when you're not noticed?"

Be Your True Self.
The charm of genuineness is very real. No matter how thoroughly you imitate something which you are not,
the imitation will differ in some fashion from the original. That is because the imitation is governed a little by the basic qualities of the imitator.

Ingrowing Toenail.
The best way to treat an ingrowing
toenail is to cut a little "V" in the end of the nail. The sides of the nail may then be pried up and kept from digging into the flesh by a little wad of absorbent cotton. This will soon correct the ingrowing tendency.

To Revive Corks.
After corks have been used a while they sometimes become so compressed that the contents of the bottle leak out.
This may be remedied by putting the corks in boiling water and leaving them until the water cools.

Hookworm.
The full-grown hookworm is about one-third to one-half an inch in length.
It is about the thickness of a small hairpin or a No. 30 thread. It looks to the unaided eye very much like a miniature earth worm.

Natural Feminine Thought.

Loads of Bibles.
One hundred and twenty-five cases of Bibles arrived at Ebn Owerri, Africa, it requiring 125 African porters,
each with the regulation load of 60 pounds on his head, in single file, to take these Bibles to their destination through the bush. There were 25 Bibles to each tin-lined case, making a total of 3,100 copies, which, it is believed, will be sold to the natives within the year.

Beginning of Shipbuilding.
The first buoy was several logs lashed together and anchored by a stone. Man was just venturing upon the waters. Rafts ready made by nature were bestowed upon him in the jetam of the storm. Man built better and better rafts. His old ones anchored by rattan-held boulders came to mark his landing place and home.
Whence came the habit of harbor
buoys.

Use for Coffee Grounds.
The question of what to do with the coffee grounds has at last been satisfactorily answered, says the Popular Science Monthly. Just pour them out into the sink-strainer and dump them into the garden. They contain some valuable fertilizing properties, including a large percentage of nitrogen and a fair amount of potassium and phos-

THE GREAT WAR HAS MADE CIGARETTES A NECESSITY.

"Our boys must have their smokes.
Send them cigarettes!" This is a familiar appeal now to all of us.

Among those most in demand is the now famous "toasted" cigarette—LUCKY STRIKE. Thousands of this favorite brand have been shipped to France. There is something homelike and friendly to the boys in the sight of the familiar green packages
with the red circle.

This homelike, appetizing quality of the LUCKY STRIKE cigarette is largely due to the fact that the Burley tobacco used in making it has been toasted. "It's toasted" was the "slogan" that made a great success of LUCKY STRIKE in less than a year.
Now the American Tobacco Co. is making 15 million LUCKY STRIKE
Cigarettes a day.

A good part of this immense production is making its way across the water to cheer our boys

SMEAR YELLOW PAINT IN FRONT OF OFFICE

PRINCETON ATTORNEY ATTACKED BY THOSE WHO RESENT HIS ATTITUDE.

Princeton: Yellow paint was smeared early Sunday morning on the sidewalk in front of the law office of L. M. Eckert, former states attorney for Bureau county and members of the appeal board for district 1 of southern Illinois. Rumors emanating from the board headquarters at Peoria, which reached Princeton late Saturday afternoon announcing that Ray Coddington, former secretary to Mr. Eckert, had been certified for limited service on account of physical disability after the local exemption board at Princeton and the medical advisory board at Ottawa had found him physically fit for general military service, aroused the indignation of a group of drafted men who were in the current quota, and it is suspected that some of them planned and executed the yellow paint demonstration.

"How much did Coddington pay?" "Eckert pro-German." "Traitor." "Tar and feathers next." "Ride him on a rail," were phrases which were scrawled upon the cement in large, glaring letters.

PRO-GERMAN TALKER LYNCHED BY MOB IN COLLINSVILLE, ILL.

Assailed President Wilson
Collinsville, Ill., April 5.—Robert P. Prager, 45 years old and German born, after twice escaping mob violence, was hanged to a tree early today by a mob of 350 persons, who declared he had made disloyal utterances. He was dragged from the basement of the city hall here where he was hiding, escorted barefooted through the main street of the city to a point one mile west of here on the road leading to St. Louis, and there his body was found later dangling to the limb of a tree.

The local police, in a statement issued today, declared they, being only four in number, were unable to cope with the mob. They also said that Prager while in their custody had stated he was a registered enemy alien, that he was born in Germany, but that he had taken in his first naturalization papers and had hoped to become an American citizen.

Collinsville is twelve miles east of St. Louis and is in that section of southwestern Illinois that of late has been active against alleged disloyalists.

Accused of Criticizing Wilson
Prager was a coal miner and yesterday was in Maryville, Ill., where he addressed miners on socialism. In his talk he is said to have made remarks derogatory to President Wilson. Miners there became angry and when they threatened to do him bodily harm he escaped to Collinsville, his home. Some of the miners, however, followed him and described his actions to local persons. A crowd soon gathered and Prager was taken from his home and led barefooted through the street waving an American flag.

The police, fearing violence, took Prager from the crowd and placed him in the city hall. Later a mob gathered in front of the hall and demanded the man.

Police and Deputies Overpowered
Mayor J. H. Siegel counseled calmness, but the small force of police and deputies was overpowered and Prager was found in the basement hiding beneath a pile of tiling. He was dragged down the street and beyond the city limits, the crowd threatening to shoot if the officers approached.

One mile west of the city the rope with which they led Prager was thrown over the limb of a tree. The man was asked if he had anything to say. His answer was to drop to his knees and with arms crossed to pray in German for three minutes. Without another word he was pulled into the air ten feet and allowed to hang.

The mob then dispersed, but when officers arrived later they found the body guarded by two men who refused to allow it to be cut down.

TO RAISE FUND M. E. STUDENTS

The Wesley foundation meeting held in the Methodist church at Rochelle Thursday was attended by about 35 ministers and laymen. Rev. E. C. Lumsden and Chas. E. Keyes attended as representatives of the Dixon church. Dr. A. T. Horn of Urbana presided. He gave an excellent talk on the great need of a well equipped Methodist church at the seat of the state university. More than 1200 Methodist students are in attendance at the University of Illinois and a great church would help and train for future service this army of young people. Dr. Horn expects to raise $500,000 in Illinois for this worthy enterprise. The entire work is pronouncedly patriotic and makes for future helpfulness.

OFFICIALS DISCOVER WHY THE DEATH RATE VARIED FOR SOME COMMUNITIES.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., Apr. 5.—Why the death rate was high in some Illinois counties and low in others has been discovered by the state health board as the result of the inauguration of the new system of keeping statistics. With reference to the reason, the Illinois Health News just issued, says:

"The very low registration of deaths in some counties was found to be due to the fact that in perhaps 60 per cent of the cases the undertakers were not employed in burying of the dead, the coffins being purchased at general stores and the burial being conducted by the neighbors. In this way it was learned that certificates in many instances were not issued at all or, if issued, would not find their way through the ordinary channel to the division of vital statistics. This rather difficult and unsuspected condition is being somewhat overcome by requiring coffin sellers to keep and transmit to the department lists of those persons buying caskets."

: THE EVENING STORY :

Fickle Fortune

By Alvah Jordan Garth

(Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

The proprietor of the Red Coyote sat behind the bar of the combination saloon and eating room. Business was dull and he was grumpy. There was only one other inmate of the far harder tavern—Abel Mason.

Outside his sleigh stood, half buried in a snow bank. The dog attached had sunk down in his harness in a restless attitude.

A big hulking fellow staggered into view outside, lurched unsteadily, and half stumbled over the sleigh. He made an unsteady kick at the dog. Mason half arose, his eyes flashing fire. Then he subdued the impulse to resent the brutality shown towards his best friend, Rainbow, long canine sharer of his fortunes and misfortunes.

Rainbow was able to take care of himself. He seemed. He bristled to all fours. He made a dive at his would-be assailant. His long, keen teeth met in a thickness of cloth across the knee of the drunken stroller. The latter tore loose, accepted the warning at its worth, and reeled into the bar room.

"Drink," he growled, "and lots of it!" and threw a coin upon the counter. Once, twice, thrice he filled the glass with the red fiery liquor. He was sipping up the remaining contents of the bottle with a drunken leer, when there was another arrival in the grimy bar room.

A full-blooded Indian woman, haggard, rugged, but not altogether unlovely, crossed the threshold. She was young, almost girlish. On one arm she bore a child, not more than a year old, waiting with the cold. Its blue tinged cheeks were sunken, its frame attenuated. The woman hurried toward the man at the bar. She placed a trembling, urgent hand upon the man's arm.

"See," she said in broken, disjointed English—"There is no milk. The papoose will starve and die."

"You won't let up on my trail hey?" roared the man and he brought his broad hand with a wicked sweep. The squaw went reeling back against the table. A second time Abel sprang to his feet. With lurid eyes the drinker was following up his attack. Between the clanking trembling woman with her child and her evil genius her defender sprang swiftly.

"I'll not stand this," he said forcefully.

"Suppose you have to," snarled the other, and raised his clenched fist to strike the woman again.

"You brute—not while I have a mother and a wife. Take that!"

The law fell with mallet force. The bloated mass of humanity went reeling against the counter, grunted, came down to the floor with a crash and lay there.

"He's got it, and I'm glad," observed the bouncer. "He's no good. I've no use for the red ones, but his squaw is his wife, and he's been dodging her for a week."

The woman crouched closer to her defender. Her face was distorted with misery and emotion. Mason looked pityingly at the wailing child. Then he took his mother by the arm and led her through the open archway into the eating room. A slouchy waiter was lying asleep on two chairs. Mason roused him with a rough shake and the words:

"Here, hustle up and feed this woman. What is it for the child?"

"Milk," voiced the squaw in a gasping expectancy, as though that word completed all that was precious to her at that moment.

Mason sat with a grim face, purposefully masked, to hide the ineffable pity he felt for the outcast pair.

"Give both of them all they want," Mason ordered the waiter, "and don't let them go till I come back. Who is the woman?" he inquired a moment later in the bar room of the tavern keeper.

"She's Watina," imparted the other. "Her dad is an old chief fifty years up the Frazier river. That skunk lying yonder lured her from the home nest, married her, made her his slave, and then his football. She ought to be home. Some morning she'll be found with the kid in some snowdrift, both frozen to death."

Mason drew back and pondered. He had troubles of his own. A year previous he had left home, mother, wife and a tiny babe to try his luck in the new Frazier gold district. There had been some lucky ones. He was not of the group. He was homeward bound, poorer than when he had come to this land of false promise. He had his dog and sleigh, but besides that barely enough time and money to carry him to Elmont and thence by rail 500 miles.

So closely had he gauged his program that any extra cost or loss of time might mean disaster. Yet, true man that he was, a realization of the forlorn condition of the poor Indian girl and her papoose stirred all that was gentle and manly in his nature. He went back into the eating room and sat down at the table opposite Watina. The baby, filled to repletion, was cooing out its appreciation of food and warmth. The mother, her strength replenished, gazed at Mason with grateful eyes.

"Do you know the trail home?" questioned he.

"Oh, so well!" cried the woman. "But can I battle the terrors of the north, the giant blizzard, the fierce tempest, the snowslides, alone, on foot, with my little one?"

"If you will direct me, I will take you and the child on the sledge," said Mason.

"Oh, if that man comes to me again I shall die! And to see my poor old father and mother!" cried Watina.

It was considerable of a task for the faithful Rainbow to begin a long run after a brief rest, for only two hours previous the sledge dog and driver had terminated a 25-mile run. The sturdy animal breasted the fierce wind willingly, however. Mason added some milk for the babe to his stores. The little one was warmly bestowed, wrapped up in a blanket and skins behind the mother on the sledge, while Mason walked to lighten the load.

There was no visible trail, and the past familiarity of Watina with the district alone kept them from straying over dangerous mountain passes and losing direction and destination. Where the course was uneven and difficult Watina relieved Rainbow of her added burden.

It was just 36 hours after the rigorous journey had begun that Watina uttered a joyous cry, and momentarily Mason halted to view a large bark structure surrounded by a group of small huts.

Watina began to weep and trembled as they descended towards the settlement, as though fearing to be repulsed by those she longed to see. A passing Indian noticed her, stared, uttered a ringing whoop, and dashed for the big bark lodge. He reappeared, followed by a big brave, whose apparel showed him to be a man of importance in the community.

He was the old chief, the father of Watina. Behind him trailed his wife, with arms outstretched, crying out eagerly to the mourned for, long lost daughter, whom the father enfolded in a welcome clasp, while his wife took possession of the little babe.

They overwhelmed Mason with expressions of grateful friendship, when Watina had told them of the part he had taken in saving her babe and herself. There was a great feast given in honor of the restoration of the wayward child of the tribe.

The next morning Mason arranged to renew his journey to the south. He had lost two days and must make up for lost time. There was the fear of some great stress of weather, closing the trails. His one thought now was of his wife and the little one, and of the aged mother back in the humble village home, he resolved never to leave again for the allurements of fickle fortune.

"And I am coming back empty handed," he meditated, rather mournfully. "What great hopes the dear ones at home built upon my prospects. Oh, well, just to be all together again in the home nest—that will compensate for all disappointments and suffering."

"You will come," spoke an Indian lad, as Mason was hitching up Rainbow, and he indicated that Mason was wanted at the big house.

It was there that Mason confronted a vast surprise, and a pleasurable one. What resembled a teeter, comprising a long board set across a post imbedded in the ground, and swiveled at the center, had a large wicker basket at each end. In one, smiling her gratitude and friendly regard for Mason, was Watina. Half a dozen men were bringing in armful after armful of skins. Gold the old chief had not, but his habitation, it seemed, was a storehouse filled with the results of hunting and trapping during the past season.

Some of the skins were almost priceless. Little as Mason knew of their marketable value, he readily surmised that. Until the teeter evenly balanced, the skins were piled against the weight of Watina—over a hundred pounds.

And then the chief added half a dozen seal skins, secured in some trade with Indians farther north. The old man indicated that the rich endowment was a token of the kindly gratefulness of those whom Mason had made happy.

When Abel Mason waved adieu to the little Indian settlement, the royal gift secured to the sledge behind him, he headed southwards, made hopeful by the knowledge that he would not reach the loved ones at home empty handed.

A Surprisingly Good Car

WITH some fifty different makes of cars selling at $1200 to $1800, it is out of the question to examine and consider them all before buying—but in confining your selection to five or six, you run a risk of overlooking some car that you really should consider.

The Auburn Six is decidedly such a car. When you come to compare it carefully, you will find two things to be true—it is bigger, better looking, better built, and higher powered than most cars selling at the same price, and that you will have to pay $200 to $300 more for other cars that are its equal in quality.

This statement is made deliberately to get you to acquaint yourself with the Auburn Six. Wouldn't it be foolish to make it if the car did not bear out the statement?

Before you buy a five-passenger car in the $1200 to $1500 class, see the Auburn Six at $1345. Four-Passenger Roadster, $1345. Smart Sport Model, $1395. If you are seeking a seven-passenger car at $1500 to $1800, see the Auburn Six at $1685. We believe you will choose the Auburn Six—a car with seventeen years of success and honest dealing back of it.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By O. U. Kidd)

Junior Play Cast.

The Junior play cast are studiously practicing for their play to be given in the near future. The following is the cast:

Robert Hayden—Grant's younger brother—Floyd Richardson, Alfred Woolfe—A dissipated football player—Edward Condon.

Gene Clarke—Coach of the Siddell football eleven—Charles Rowland Junius Brooks, Sophomore—Willard Countryman.

George Holman—John Byers, football roofer. Frank Mitchell—Leander Hess, football roofer.

Henry Sumner—One of younger professors—William Bardwell. Watassa Faulkner—A girl student and football enthusiast—Ethel Smith.

Rena Maynard—A girl student, refined and dainty—Frances Dauntler.

Margery Carson—A Junior who helps Marian Waterman. Dollie Sylvester—One of Sylvester twins—Geraldine Dollmeyer.

Evelyn Sylvester—Who is Dollie's echo—Helen Montague. Priscilla Parmelee—Dean's assistant—Mary Kennedy.

Stage Manager—Ermin Miller. Business Manager—John Byers. Assistant Business Manager—Wilson Dysart.

Director—Prof. Flester.

Notice.

The Junior play will give fifty per cent of the gate receipts to the Dixon chapter of the Red Cross. The play will be given in the opera house.

Gerald Berry will occupy a box at the Junior play (soap box).

Frollickers' Hop.

One week from tonight the Frollickers' Club, D. H. S., will give another dance. Splendid music and at Rosbrook hall. All are welcome.

The "Careless Quartette," composed of the Misses Winters, Craiser, Carpenter and Hicks, are being sought after to sing between acts at the Junior play. The only drawbacks are that "according to Hicks" she won't sing and Florence Carpenter is a bit timid when on exhibit.

The Junior class held a meeting on Thursday after school.

Senior Stunts.

The Seniors will put on some vaudeville stunts on next Friday night at the high school auditorium (or aquarium, if Barry or Vaile are around). The Seniors have been practicing very hard for this vaudeville.

Marian Cahill is parting her hair in the middle now to imitate Red Fanning.

Information Bureau.

How to catch fish easily—Go down to a hardware store, buy a shovel, go and hire, rent, borrow or steal a wheelbarrow, then go down to the river and leave wheelbarrow on the shore, as I was saying walk out into river either boats length or your length and then the dirty work starts. Dig a hole in the water and the poor fish will come and fall into it. Then shovel fish out and proceed on your way. But be careful you're not the poor fish that falls into the hole if you try it.

In accordance with the times and customs this column will continue an information bureau for those students seeking more knowledge.

Clarence Vaile, one of the world's seven wonders, is contemplating taking a position on a farm. He wishes to be called "Agricola."

Mr. Fiecke's agricultural class went to Lowden's farm near Oregon today to study the climatic conditions and soil. They remained for the day, eating their 12 o'clock meal at 11 in Oregon.

Don't forget the Frollickers' dance a week from tonight, on Friday.

DECIDE YOURSELF

The Opportunity Is Here, Backed by Dixon Testimony.

Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement.

Read Dixon endorsement. Read the statements of Dixon citizens.

And decide for yourself. Here is one case of it.

P. H. Kenzler, proprietor painting and decorating establishment, 722 S. Dement St., Dixon, says: "About five years ago I had a bad attack of kidney complaint. I was laid up for three weeks and couldn't do a bit of work. I had to hobble about with a stick, my back was so sore and lame. When in bed I had to be propped up with pillows. My work as a painter and inhaling the fumes from the paint, is what I blame for my kidney trouble. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Campbell & Son's Drug Store and used them. It was only a couple of days before I was back at work again." 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Start Early Potatoes in Trenches on Straw; Cover As Roots Begin to Start

Often potatoes planted in April will not come up any earlier than those planted a month or six weeks later.
Meanwhile the first seed does not retain the virile strength of the later planted ones, because of the long wait before germination. The result is discouraging to truck farmers who want to get their spuds started early to get them ready for fancy prices, writes F.
E. Brunner, in Farm and Fireside.

I have found potatoes are quickly started by the following means: A trench about 10 inches deep is dug in well-drained soil, the bottom being loosened so that the soil is mellow. In the trench straw is laid so that when packed down it has a depth of an inch or two. Next drop the seed at the desired distances apart and leave it lying in the trench uncovered. The large-seed is better for use in getting a quick, early crop. The sun has free opportunity to shine on the seed, when it soon begins to start sprouts. As the roots begin to form, a little dirt is drawn in around the seed. The plant will finally reach the top of the ground level, and the trench can then be filled in—but not before. Potatoes planted in this way will not easily freeze, because they are protected by being lower than the surface of the ground, and should there be danger of freezing it is not much trouble to cover the furrows lightly with straw until the cold wave passes.

Mother's Cook Book.

This was a good dinner enough, to be sure, but it was not a dinner to ask a man to—Johnson.

Economical Dishes.
One ounce of meat for each person will be found sufficient when combined with other foods so that the flavor of the meat has seasoned the whole dish.
Out of the chief recommendations
for the casserole is that it is a dish
which will use leftovers.

Meat With Rice.
Line a casserole with boiled rice. In a saucepan mix a tablespoonful each of butter and flour, when well blended
add salt and pepper, a cupful of rich milk and a half cupful or more of finely chopped meat. Cover with rice and cook after adding one tablespoonful
each of chopped onion, and parsley.
Cook for an hour and serve with tomato sauce.

Stuffed Peppers.
Take two cupfuls of cooked meat
and mix with a cupful of sausage, add salt and pepper and a half cupful of boiled rice, one beaten egg and when well mixed fill the peppers with the mixture and bake.

Creole Halibut.
Take a one pound halibut steak, one clove of garlic finely chopped, two cupfuls of well seasoned tomatoes, butter, pepper and salt to taste and a cupful of bread crumbs. Remove the bone from the fish, place in a buttered dish, sprinkle with garlic, cover with a layer of tomatoes, then a layer of buttered cups, salt and pepper and bake 20 minutes. Serve hot from the baking dish.

Chesse Puff.
Grease a pudding dish and lay into it slices of well buttered bread. Sprinkle each with a layer of rich chesse finely cut or grated and pour over a pint of milk with two beaten eggs, salt and pepper. Bake until the custard is set.

Luncheon Cheese.
Take richly seasoned cottage chesse
form into cones with a small ice cream form and drop on lettuce leaves, garnish with sprigs of celery.

Orange Cream.
A thin custard poured over sections of oranges, arranging them in sherbet cups, topping with a little cream or the white of an egg, makes a most dainty dessert.

Things Worth Knowing.

Heat is one of the greatest food wasters.
Milk is the richest of all foods
in lime.
Fruits are good stimulants to the digestion.
Whole ground cornmeal is
most nourishing.
When you are out of tooth
paste use salt instead.
Dry cold will keep food better than damp cold.
A vinegar compress will quickly cure ringworm.
Nutmegs grate best if started from the blossom end.

Trees Are an Asset.

It would seem that every person who owns a farm or city lot would see the importance of trees, but judging from the homes one finds without trees
it is safe to conclude that many do not yet realize the value of trees. However, some who plant trees fail to make them live; the seasons in some localities may be unfavorable for a few years and destroy the trees; others may be beginning to build up homes which sooner or later will be protected by trees.—Farm and Ranch.

W. S. S.
HEALO is recommended by railroad men. Conductors and others who are constantly on their feet find it a comfort and blessing, and constantly sing its praise.

Rice 400 B. C.
The culture of rice is alluded to in the Talmud, and there is evidence that it was grown in the valley of the Euphrates and in Syria before 400
B. C. It was taken into Persia from India, and later into Spain by the Arabs. Thence its culture was introduced into Italy about A. D. 1468. The Spaniards are also responsible for its introduction into Peru and other sections of Spanish America during the early colonial period, but the exact date has not been definitely determined.

For Beating Rugs.
If you have a carpet or rug to beat,
don't hang it up double on the clothes line where the dust from one side is just pounded into the other side. There is a much easier and quicker method.
If you have an old bed spring, still on its frame, lay the carpet on it, single thickness. You will find that the dust doesn't fly so much, and you can get the dust out much quicker and easier than when it is beaten on the clothes line.

Rebeccaites.
In 1843 a band of Welsh rioters
made war upon the toll-gates along the highways of a large district. The captain of the rioters and his guard disguised themselves in female attire, and they were called Rebeccaites. This name arose from a gross perversion of a text of Scripture: "And they blessed Rebekah, and said unto her
... let thy seed possess the gate of those who hate them."—Genesis 24:60.

Apt With Her Excuse.
Emily, preferring the doll her grandmother had given her to the one her mother gave her, tucked the rejected doll out of sight in a broken doll crib.
Her mother asked her why she didn't play with the doll she had given her.
Emily looked at her mother a moment in silence, seeming to fear hurting her mother's feelings, then gave a quick look at the crib and said, "Sh-sh! She's sick."

Famous Tree Destroyed.
"Byron's tree," in Harrow parish churchyard, has been destroyed by fire, wantonly caused by a visitor. This is the elm made famous by the poet, who in a letter from Italy in 1822
stated that he used to sit for hours
under a large tree in the churchyard.
He also wrote some well-known "Lines written beneath an elm in the churchyard of Harrow."

Found Live Crab In Bottle.
A Maine fisherman claims to have pulled up a pint milk bottle with a live crab in it. It is evident that the crab had crawled into the bottle when small and stayed there until it grew so large it could not get out. The bottle was crushed with barnacles when it was pulled up, which shows it had been in the water a long time.

Birds' Christmas Dinner.
A traveler in Sweden tells of a pretty custom: "Not a peasant will sit down with his children to a Christmas dinner, indoors, till he has first raised aloft a Christmas dinner for the little

The Poor Druggist.
A certain druggist in this city recently received the following curt and haughty note in a harsh feminine scrawl: "I do not want vasoline. I

Times Union.

Didn't Pull Together.
Misses—"So your matrimonial life was very unhappy. What was the trouble? December wedded to May?"
Chloe Johnson—"Lan' sake, no, mam!
It was Labor Day wedded to de Day

Where Skill Counts.
The theory and practice of agricul-

in is shown the skill of the cultivator.
